We are having a very difficult time trying to get the community and educators to participate in The 2006 Educational Summit scheduled for October 13 & 14 that will ultimately help our children and community develop strong partnerships with Seattle School District. We have powerful national speakers on program to help Seattle develop a community plan for working with our schools.

Registration is somewhat low and it would be too costly to cancel at this date. There is a crisis in middle and high schools in Seattle as well as in schools across the nation in reference to student achievement, dropout rates, and school behavior. We do not want to be embarrassed in bringing these national speakers to Seattle without the community and educators' participation. Please help us market this event. We must fill the Mercer Middle School Auditorium with the community and educators to show the world that we care about what happens to our children in Seattle Public Schools.

Please use the updated information in the attachments for marketing the 2006 Educational Summit. This includes: local and state superintendents, school leaders, students, teachers community leaders, civic and social organizations, business leader and other constituencies in which you are affiliated.
